AgVenture D&M welcomes Yield Specialist Trainee Chase Aylesworth

KENTLAND, IN (June 9, 2015) – AgVenture D&M, based at Kentland, Indiana continues to grow. They have welcomed Chase Aylesworth to work with farmers across northwest Indiana as an AgVenture Yield Specialist Trainee. Since 1993, the independently owned and operated regional seed company has provided AgVenture® brand seed products together with year-round professional seed support to customers across northwest Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

AgVenture D&M Sales and Marketing Manager, Brian Maxwell said, “Our Company’s strength is our commitment to our customers’ profitability. Our Maximum Profit System™ is a comprehensive, systems-based approach to dramatically increasing yields, lowering cost per bushel and improving overall profitability. Our customers’ success using this combination of our high quality seed products, cutting-edge management, and the support of their AgVenture Yield Specialist has proven its success on fields across our area. Our recent hires, including Chase, will help assure we are present to deliver only the highest quality seed and professional support at each phase throughout the year.”

Maxwell added, “Chase is a dedicated young professional who is ready to work for his customers. During his training period, he will participate in rigorous agronomy training programs, and further develop his customer relationships. We are committed to delivering only the finest professional support to our customers. Chase’s work ethic and previous exposure to the seed business will help us fortify our team as we work one-on-one with customers throughout the region.”

Aylesworth said, “It is a real privilege to join a company that is so committed to each customer. Our seed products are very carefully selected and locally adapted to each growing environment. We are dedicated to the details of high-yielding crop production management. And in addition, we provide the support to see the crop through. That makes AgVenture D&M stand out as a leader in high yielding, high profitability crop production.”

Aylesworth holds a degree in Crop Science from the University of Illinois. Raised on a family farm at Mt. Pulaski, Illinois, Chase was active in 4-H, FFA, and showing livestock. He currently resides at Lowell, Indiana.

AgVenture, Inc. is the nation’s largest network of independently owned regional seed companies. Based in Kentland, Indiana, AgVenture provides this growing network of independently owned and managed seed business owners with seed products meeting exacting standards for quality, together with leading-edge genetics and technology. Since 1983, this unique marketing approach has allowed each individual company to match the hybrids it sells to the specific needs of the geographical area it serves. Combined with professional seed representation at a local level, AgVenture strives to help every grower realize more profit from every field.
